“Sunshine Back To Me”

(Pesum-Squ)

Vs1)

Woke up to a quiet house this morning coffee's cold where you used to be Ain't no footsteps down that hallway just echoes keep calling me
Pictures hanging look like strangers don't feel like this place is mine
Every little thing reminds me how I lost you,,, one slow goodbye

Vs2)

I've been driving past your old street like it might turn back time
Radio keeps playing our song, but it don't sound right tonight
Your jacket's still here in the doorway I don't have the heart to move it
Cause letting go feels like leaving everything we had,,, is just gone

“Chorus”

Can someone sing the sunshine back to me
The pain is real and the hurt is all I see
My life gone upside down I just want to turn it all around
Won't someone bring the sunshine back
Won't someone play the sunshine back
Won't someone sing the sunshine back to me

Bridge

I ain't sleeping like I used to just watching shadows on the wall
Every night feels a little longer since you ain't here at all
People say I gotta move on, but they don't know where to start
Cause every road I try to walk down leads me right back,,, to your heart

2nd Chorus and then Vs3)

There's a sunrise out my window, but it don't shine like before
Colors faded with your leaving like light don't reach this door
Still, I keep on holding onto every promise we once made
Hoping somehow in this darkness there's a light,,, that didn't fade

Vs4)

If I could turn back every minute, I'd take the hurt instead of you
I'd find a way to fix the broken and rewind what we went through
But time keeps moving like a river and I'm stuck here on the shore
Just waiting on a little sunshine like I'm praying, ya I'm prayin,,, for just one more

"Chorus" 2 Times

Can someone sing the sunshine back to me
The pain is real and the hurt is all I see
My life gone upside down I just want to turn it all around
Won't someone bring the sunshine back
Won't someone play the sunshine back ("Sing" on last chorus)
Won't someone sing the sunshine back to me
Yeah, I'm still here in the shadows just knowing someday I'll see someone sing the sunshine back to me
